

THREE PACKAGES FOR EVERY DESIGN NEED

Envisioneer 5.0 is Cadsoft's most advanced version release yet and comes in three new flavors, each offering powerful features suited to various professions and their design requirements. Whether you are seeking a professional construction solution or simply interior design, there is an Envisioneer package designed just for you, with the Building Information Modeling (BIM) power you need.

Envisioneer Essentials

A robust building information modeling and presentation tool with a vast array of interoperability formats including AutoCAD DWG and the benefits of Envisioneer's ability to easily model, render, and present your concepts in 3D, as well as integrate with your existing 2D drafting platform.

Ideal for: Interior Designers, Landscape Designers, Builder Design Centers and AutoCAD enthusiasts

Envisioneer Professional

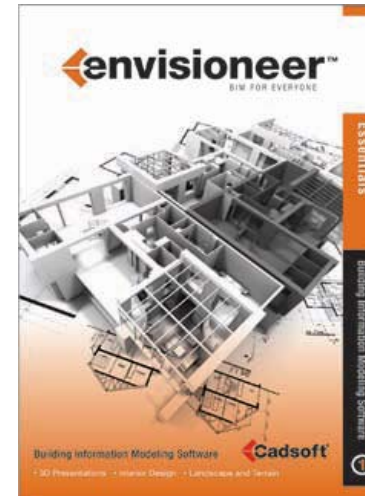

Offering all of the features found in the Essentials package, the Professional edition enables you to also produce complete and detailed working drawings, providing a robust documentation system complete with automatic elevations, sections and an expandable details library.

Ideal for: Architects and Residential Designers

Envisioneer Construction Suite

The Construction Suite offers all of the features found in the Professional version plus additional builder-focused tools including the creation of more comprehensive and customizable material estimates and cut lists, links to popular industry estimating and accounting packages and completely customizable wall framing configuration and support for manufacturing processes.

Ideal for: Builders, Contractors and Remodelers
